LOCATION	START
Sunshine Coast	Semester 1, Semester 2

Learn about the social causes and consequences of crime and disadvantage in this double degree. You'll be taught how sociological influences can impact offending and gain a deep understanding of Australia's criminal justice system, including areas of law enforcement, crime policy, the court system and custodial and community corrections.

In this program you will:

- Learn about social inequality and how to make a difference in the legal system
- Complete two field placements where you'll learn practical skills
- Research crime-related issues and develop problem solving skills
- Choose from specialist courses in criminal profiling and intelligence, youth justice and restorative justice, homicide, forensic science and more
- Have the opportunity to complete a professional placement in your final year
